22nd Union Carbide Safety Period Began Back On December 18, 1957

Safety-Conscious Employees Hope To Extend String Indefinitely; 10,000,000 Next Goal

That 5,000,000 man-hour mark of plant operations without a disabling injury by Union Carbide Nuclear Company employees in the Y-12 Plant Area that has been so elusive for more than 10 years finally was reached at midnight last Thursday, May 22. The safety scoreboards read 5,025,000 last Friday morning and the green lights of safety still were merrily flashing over the weekend and at midnight Sunday the figure reached 5,077,000.

Record Still Unofficial

The new record still is unofficial, as a waiting period of 20 days is required to determine if any disability turns up from an accident incurred during the time the 5,025,000-hour accident-free string has been in existence.

This Y-12 Plant record far exceeds any similar effort by any other Union Carbide Nuclear Com-

75 Y-12 Youngsters Get Diplomas May 29

High School Graduation Exercises Set Thursday

There will be a lot of proud parents on hand tomorrow night, Thursday, May 29, when the 1958 graduating class of Oak Ridge High School receives diplomas at commencement exercises in the high school auditorium. Of the class, expected by Principal T. H. Dunnigan to total 317, there are 75 youngsters with Y-12 parents; as well as a number of others whose parents are Union Carbide Nuclear Company employees in the Y-12 Plant Area.

Memorial Day Holiday Is Set Friday, May 30

Friday of this week, May 30, Memorial Day, not only will be observed by all Union Carbide Nuclear employees in Oak Ridge as one of the regular Company's seven holidays of the year but it will give Y-12ers and Americans everywhere the opportunity to carry out the provisions of President Eisenhower's proclamation to make the day one of prayer for permanent peace. The Presidential proclamation carries out the objective of a Congressional resolution adopted May 11 to designate each Memorial Day for this purpose.

As with all Company holidays, no Y-12er will be required to work except those who are needed for the continuous operation and protection of the plant.

On this day, carrying out the Presidential proclamation, at least a short period of time should be utilized by Y-12ers to utter a prayer for the permanent peace. The day also is one on which to pay tribute to the members of the Armed Forces of the nation who have made the supreme sacrifice

Utilities Employee Given Reel And Saw

Also retiring tomorrow will be John Vanderpool, an outside machinist in the Mechanical Maintenance Department.

Two Y-12 Employment Periods

Held in high regard by his supervision and fellow employees alike, Shelly has had two periods of employment in Y-12. He first came to work for Tennessee Eastman Corporation on October 6, 1944, leaving under reduction in force on February 7, 1947. He returned to Y-12 on October 19, 1951, from which date his present service extends.

"It is most gratifying to be able to congratulate the UCNC employees in our plant when 5,000,000 man-hours of plant operation were attained without a disabling injury on May 22. This is an enviable record of which we can all be proud, principally because it means we have reduced human suffering.

"We can extend this period with the continued cooperation of every employee in thinking and working safely on our individual jobs."

Many fellow employees and friends of the late Charley Johnson, 54, former foreman in the Y-12 General Machine Shop, who died Sunday, May 18, paid their last tribute to him at funeral services Tuesday, May 20, at the Oak Ridge Methodist Church. He had been in the hospital for several days prior to his death.

SPORTS EDITOR GOOFS—TOURNEY AT DEANE HILL

When bigger and better divots are dug and bloopers are blooped—trust the sports editor of The Bulletin to pull the trigger. In relating the second Y-12 Golf Tournament of the season, staged May 17, some gremlin got into his typewriter to make the story read that the tournament was at Gatlinburg. 'Twasn't so. The highly successful event was held at the Deane Hill Country Club in Knox County. What probably confused the sports editor was that the third plant wide tournament for Y-12 golfers is scheduled for June 28—and that one is at Gatlinburg, and he had the mountain resort city on his mind.

Three Y-12 Pinmen In ABC Tournament

Three Y-12 bowlers are scheduled to compete in the "big league" of bowling on Tuesday night of this week in Syracuse, N.Y., when they will roll in the American Bowling Congress annual national tournament. They are Len Hart, Y-12, All Carbide and city champion; Jay Holz-knecht and Elmore Koons. They will take John McGee, of Oak Ridge; and Bill Fox, of Clinton; along to form an Anderson County team for the big tournament.

Hart and Holz-knecht were on a Union Carbide Nuclear Company team that took championship honors in both scratch and handicap in the recent Derby Bowling Tournament in Louisville, where Hart rolled a 628 scratch series and the team an all-time tournament handicap record of 3,221.

Tickets for the rodeo may be purchased from members of the C Shift Recreation Committee, including J. C. Knisley, Chloe Brown, Gene Stooksbury, Elmer Wilder, J. C. Booher, S. L. Ray, Jim Morgan and Roy Smith. Free coffee and sandwiches will be served the contestants.

High Scores Mark Softball Games

Engineers, Reactors And Cubs Triumphant

Although only three actual diamond duels were staged last week in the Y-12 Plant Softball League, the lads with the bats really bore down on the hurlers with the result that prodigious scores were posted in all three engagements. The Engineers and Slow Pokes set an all time record in the league for tallies with a total of 47—believe it or not—in their four innings of combat, called on account of exhaustion of base runners with the Engineers on the large end of a 30 to 17 score. The Cubs topped C Shift by 10 to 5 and the league-leading Reactors completely routed the Slow Pokes by 23 to 0 as manager Harley Law and Chandler hurled the first no-hitter of the season for the winners.

Early Birds Get Forfeits

The Early Birds accumulated a pair of wins in the standings without swinging a bat as the Fat Boys and C Shift teams were unable to raise a quorum for the scheduled games.

In that Engineer-Slow Pokes marathon, Simmons and Del Grande smacked homers for the victors with the latter having a perfect three for three at the plate. Goosie blasted four for four and Simmons three for five at the dish. Much of the scoring came from misplays, as both teams were charged with eight errors—but everybody had a lot of fun. Cox and B. Atkins each homered for the Pokes with Atkins having two hits in three trips to the platter and G. Ware had three for four.

Cubs Late Runs Valuable

The Cubs and C Shift fought on about even terms for three innings, but late inning scoring gave the Cubs the cushion. Carter with three safeties and Grubb with two led the winners in hitting and Johnson homered in vain for C Shift.

The Slow Pokes pulled a triple play, believed to be the first ever seen in league history, but it didn't slow up the Reactors. He whiffed eight Pokes. Roe, Cheek, Fitzgerald and Dyer each had home runs for the Reactors and Wright connected on four of his five trips to the plate. Roe got three in five efforts.

PHIL BREMAN SHOTS RARE HOLE-IN-ONE

That elusive goal of every golfer—a hole in one—was attained last week by Phil Breman, of Industrial Engineering. Using a No. 7 iron, Phil plunked his tee shot into the cup on the No. 3 hole at the Whittle Springs course in Knoxville while playing in the Knoxville Golf League for Y-12 players. The hole is 142 yards. Playing with Breman with Larry Kovach, M. B. Hilton and George Peterson.

MANY SEEDLINGS PLANTED

During 1957 the nation's forest industries planted about 240,000-000 seedlings on their own land.

'RIDE 'EM COWGIRL' is the title of the first prize winning snapshot in the Y-12 Weekly Photographic Contest for the week ending May 16, top. It was taken by T. R. Barton, Production Analysis, with his daughter as model. The lower picture by Roy E. Monger, Alloy Shop, of a thunderstorm at 9 p.m., took second place.

'BIRD ON A LIMB' snapshot by W. H. Haddix, Electrical Maintenance, took first place in the Y-12 Weekly Photographic Contest for the week ending May 23. It was the only picture entered for that week.

for their country. Throughout the land veterans' organizations and other patriotic groups will bedeck graves of fallen servicemen with flowers and flags in remembrance of their deeds.

Y-12ers this year have established an excellent off-the-job safety mark — as well as while at work — and during the long week-end holiday are again urged to "play it safe."

'Space Flight' Talk On Council Program

A spokesman for the council states that this will be the first opportunity for any large group to get an insight into the problems facing man in this pioneering age of flight in outer space. Because of this, the Council is inviting high school students, doctors and the public to attend.

To Describe Behavior In Space

Colonel Campbell will discuss space flight experimentation as it affects human behavior including the physiological and psychological reactions of man to free fall, partial vacuum, cosmic radiation, and the solitude of flight. He will describe and illustrate with color slides the anticipated space-living conditions with regard to the natural habits of man. A short film will be shown depicting weightless flight, that is space flight where there is practically no gravitational pull from the earth.

Colonel Campbell obtained his M.D. degree from the University of Chicago and during most of World War II served as director of research at the United States School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field. At the conclusion of the war, he was sent to Germany to study German Air Force Research. Between World War II and the Korean episode, he taught in the medical schools of the University of Illinois and of Northwestern University. In 1950, he returned to the School of Aviation as Director of Aeromedical Research until 1953. The period from 1953 to 1956 was spent on the Air Attache Staff in Great Britain and The Netherlands. In 1956, he returned to the United States to become special assistant of medical research to the Commander of Air Force Office of Scientific Research.

Many Honors Bestowed

During his professional career he has published more than 40 papers and has written portions of eight medical texts. Three of the texts were on the subject of space medicine. He is a fellow of many of the leading American Associations of Science and Medicine, is a member of Sigma Xi and Fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine in England. His honors and decorations include the Legion of Merit and two Commendation medals, all for aviation medical research. He is an Honorary Flight Surgeon in the French Air Force and a Chief Flight Surgeon of the United States Air Force.

In presenting this program the Technical Societies Joint Council of Oak Ridge illuminates a year of activity serving its 14 member societies. The Council had a charter membership of 13 societies and recently accepted the newly formed local chapter of the American Nuclear Society.

Council Aided By UNCC

The Council is financially supported by the member societies and by a grant from Union Carbide Nuclear Company. The 14 participating societies are American Institute of Chemical Engineers, Instrument Society of America, American Society for Metals, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, American Welding Society, Research Society of America, National Association of Corrosion Engineers, American Society of Tool Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Special Library Association, Society for Non-Destructive Testing, American Chemical Society, American Society of Civil Engineers, and the American Nuclear Society.

This year's officers are R. H. Nimmo (AICHE) of ORNL, president; B. D. Janney (AIEE) of ORGDP, vice-president; F. A. Knox (NACE) of ORNL, treasurer; and W. S. Dritt (ASM) of ORGDP, secretary. C. S. Lisser, program chairman, made the arrangements for the June program.

George Everitt and Utilities Area Foreman C. A. Cox doing the honors, a group of fellow employees of Shelly met to give him two "going away presents" last week and to wish him well for the future. The retiring Y-12er was presented with a fine spinning reel and an electric saw with which to continue his pet hobbies of fishing and carpentry work around his home.

Shelly will spend his future time working around his three and one-half acre home site around Midway, where he raises vegetables, has a strawberry patch and also a number of chickens. He lives only a 10-minute walk from Watts Bar Lake and plans a lot of fishing to occupy his time. At his Roane County home are his wife, Mrs. Emma Augusta Shelly, whom he married on April 17, 1913; and his oldest and youngest daughters, Misses Ruth and Jeanne Shelly.

Knoxville League Race Is Tightened

The Huskisson-Wilburn team in the Y-12 Golf League at the Whittle Spring course in Knoxville finally got clipped for one point in the standings, but took two from the Troutman-Cook pair and held a comfortable lead in the circuit. The second-place Galle-Bailey twosome also turned in a two-point win over Emery-Brockmeier. The race was slightly tightened as Perry-Leach beat the Schappels and Rice-Norris topped Kovach-Bremen, both by three. Hackett-Petretzky and Bishop-Erwin also had three-point triumphs with Hudson-Yelton and Hilton-Peterson the victims. In the other tilt Burrus-Sawyer bagged two and one-half points from Trebilcox-Butler.

A. L. Sawyer again was low scratch scorer for the session with 39 and the Burrus-Sawyer team low at 79 and also in handicap with 68, tying P. F. Galle-B. I. Bailey at 68. Bailey also had the low handicap for the day with 26.

Ellis-Anglin Lead Harriman League

The Hawks team, composed of Ed Ellis, Y-12; and Jim Anglin, K-25; took over first place in the Harriman Golf League for players in all three Union Carbide Nuclear Company installations in Oak Ridge in latest reports.

the thirst-quenching gent had language trouble.

One of his ousted customers returned and ordered a double bourbon and shot of rye. He drank the bourbon and poured the rye into his vest pocket. After three rounds, the bartender wanted to know howcome. "Mind your own business," fingered the customer, "or I'll knock your block off." Whereupon a little red mouse stuck his head out of the vest pocket and snarled, "That goes for your darn cat, too."

With that, the CC (cat custodian) gets the heck outa here.

There is no smaller package than a man wrapped up in himself.
